

If you don't try it, you won't believe it!

From earth to skin.

The gentle touch of nature
you didn't know you were waiting for.

From nature, true relief for your skin.

Miracùlusa was born in the heart of Sicily, where farming tradition meets cosmetic research. It all begins on land cultivated with care and respect, surrounded by ancient olive trees, blooming hypericum, and medicinal plants growing under the Mediterranean sun. From there, a fully artisanal, traceable, and carefully controlled process unfolds: from harvest to transformation, leading to the creation of natural cosmetic formulations that are effective, authentic, and sensorially rich.

Our agricultural company, BioWeed Sicilia, directly cultivates the main raw materials: Cannabis sativa L., Hypericum perforatum, Mentha piperita, and Olea europaea, to ensure quality, safety, and full traceability. Each ingredient is selected not only for its purity, but also for its real cosmetic function and the synergy it develops within the formula.

Miraculusa was born with a clear vision:

- ✓ to create simple yet highly functional cosmetics
- ✓ to enhance and support the local agricultural supply chain
- ✓ to offer the skin a regenerating and sensorial experience

At the heart of the project is Daniele Lo Bosco - cannabinologist, founder, farmer, and cosmetic formulator.

His humanistic background intertwines with a deep passion for medicinal plants, scientific research, and sustainability. Daniele bult Miracùlusa with the hands of a grower, the mind of a formulator, and - above all - the heart of someone who listens.

- ✓ We cultivate, harvest, and process certiPed medicinal plants.
- We produce natural cosmetics in compliance with EU Regulation 1223/2009.
- We collaborate with qualiped laboratories for testing, stability, and safety.
- Every product is handcrafted in small, carefully controlled batches.
- We invest in research on the synergy between natural ingredients and skin wellness.

We believe in a kind of beauty that respects, nurtures, and improves.

Miraculusa is our way of caring for both your skin and the earth.

Natural multi-purpose cream for daily skin wellness Nourishes, protects, and soothes the skin. Enriched with St. John's Wort, CBD, and natural butters.

Miraculusa Cream is a topical cosmetic formulation designed to provide an effective response to dry. irritated, sensitive skin or skin exposed to environmental stressors. Its formula is the result of a synergistic balance between carefully selected plant-based ingredients and a functional lipid base, specifically developed to promote the gradual absorption of active compounds and enhance the skin bioavailability of soothing and antioxidant substances.
